

Conventions | Although the planned $500 million expansion of the San Diego Convention Center is, by all appearances, dead, Comic-Con International isn't ready to say what it will do when its contract expires in 2016. "With regard to the convention center expansion, I can say that any decision to remain in San Diego has always [...]"

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2014/08/comics-a-m-comic-con-doesnt-rule-out-staying-in-san-diego/>