

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2010/09/court-strikes-down-two-oregon-obscenity-laws/>

The Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals on Monday struck down two Oregon laws that criminalized providing minors with “sexually explicit” materials, calling the statutes overly broad and a violation of the First Amendment. Although the 2007 legislation was intended to target “hardcore pornography” and prevent the sexual abuse of children, the court found it could [...]