

We're just now into the back half of October and it's already been a busy month for DC Comics' television and movie adaptations. Gotham got under way, The Flash debuted and Arrow has returned, with Constantine on deck. Meanwhile, Warner Bros. announced a massive slate of Justice League-related movies, stretching from 2016's Batman v Superman [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2014/10/grumpy-old-fan-firestorm-cyborg-and-corporate-synergy/>