

Jack Reacher: Never Go Back is out in theaters today! The Paramount Pictures production got off to a stellar start last night, drumming up over $1.325 million domestic from Thursday night previews and is expected to win the weekend with a $20 million plus debut in the States. Over the past week, Tom Cruise, who stars as the titular Reacher, has been jetting all over the world promoting his latest release and just this week, he stopped by at Jimmy Kimmel Live! on Tuesday and then The Late Late Show with James Corden on Wednesday night. During his appearance on the The Late Late Show, the 3x Academy Award-nominated megastar joined Corden in a terrific nine-minute segment where the duo recreated the greatest and biggest hits from Cruise's legendary career, which has now spanned thirty-five glorious years. Check it out below and keep scrolling for more from the Jack Reacher press tour: Here's the rest of Cruise's visit: Plus, here's Cruise and co-star Cobie Smulders on The Graham Norton
