

After a cryptic teaser which revealed nothing more than the fact that Vertigo and Wildstorm writer Brian Wood would soon be moving over to Marvel for a Wolverine related project, the company have now released a full teaser. It doesn't exactly reveal anything more other than what we can expect from the story (as seen in the recent "Regenesis" teasers, Qentin Quire will be teaming with Wolverine, so whether this means they'll be pairing up in this series/arc is unclear) but is extremely intriguing nonetheless.
