

Well this may explain the lack of any footage or real promotion for Dredd which we were expecting to see quite a while ago. Word is that the director of the movie, who has already shot it, has been asked to leave the editing and post production to others. From The LA Times.. Although he completed shooting the picture earlier this year, Travis has not been involved in the current editing phase of the movie, after creative disagreements with producers and executives in charge of the film reached a boiling point, said three people with knowledge of the production who asked not to be identified because they were not authorized to speak about the situation publicly. Instead, the editing room is now being run by a writer-producer on the film, the screenwriter Alex Garland, the people said. Apparently Garland may now seek a co-director credit on the movie too since he has done the

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/rorschachsants/news/?a=47725&t=Director_Pete_Travis_Off_iDREDDi