

The lads over at the Man Of Steel Facebook page came across this cool poster by Estevan Barza. I think he did a great job of mashing up Cavill's likeness with a very good rendering of the new Super-suit. It might be a little generic if it were an official movie poster maybe ,(not that that has stopped em in the past) but for a fan made effort I think props are in order. Aside from a couple of new set pics with Michael Shannon as Zod it's been quiet enough of the Man Of Steel front lately. Perhaps that's a sign that another official image is on the way? We'll see.
