

Talking to Entertainment Weekly, the director of the first Star Wars film, George Lucas, recalls filming Episode IV: A New Hope, what was his inspiration at the time, and the success of the saga. Unfortunately, EW has no embed code on their videos, so you'll have to click on the image below to check it out: As many of you know, Lucas directed only one film of the original trilogy, and he also directed the... prequels. And if you want to check out Star Wars: Episode I – The Phantom Menace in 3D, it will be released on February 10.
