

Joseph Gordon-Levitt has already confirmed that we will not be seeing him as Cobra Commander in G.I. Joe Retaliation. But when the trailer was released the Commander was featured. According to Jon Chu, who spoke with MovieFon, this is not the same Commander saying, "No (its not the same as Gordon Levitt's character). [Smiling] But we figured out a way that's pretty nice. And you get the Cobra Commander that you've always wanted. Or, to me, what I always wanted: a bad-ass villain. He's one of the most iconic villains ever. I'm even following him on Twitter -- he's so funny." Also he said that there was an issue with trying to get Cobra Commander from the first film to the second film, but they couldn't loose him. Chu was also asked about adapting Firefly as one of the movies villains. "He's One of my favorite characters and I had to have

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/JakeLester/news/?a=54637&t=Jon_Ch%C3%BA_Says_Cobra_Commander_Is_Not_The_Same_One_From_The_First_GI_JOE_Film