

Nothing major here but I thought it was worth posting on a slow news day since Considine was actually fan cast as Rorschach by lots of people when the movie was gearing up to be shot. U.S. CBMers may not be as aware of his work as those in The UK and Ireland but excellent performances in movies like In America, Dead Man's Shoes and tv's Red Riding have made him a firm fan favorite with many wondering if and when we would see the actor take a superhero or sci-fi type role. Empire recently opened up discussion with Considine in a webchat and he revealed the following.. Would you ever do a superhero movie? Have you ever come close or had talks about being in one in any capacity? There was a vague whiff around the Watchmen, when Paul Greengrass had the project. But the reality is Jackie Earle Haley was incredible in

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/rorschachsrants/news/?a=47593&t=Paddy_Considine_Was_In_The_Running_To_Play_Rorschach_In_iWatchmen