

Shane Black exploded onto the scene in 1987 with his script for Lethal Weapon. It became a huge hit, and he followed it up with similar edgy, witty screenplays: The Last Boy Scout, The Last Action Hero and The Long Kiss Goodnight, among others. The last one signaled an extended absence from Hollywood before returning as a writer AND a director for 2005&rsquo...

Read more: http://www.mania.com/mania-interview-shane-black\_article\_137403.html