

In 1963, two writers, Warren Murphy and Richard Sapir set out to write an action novel. It took them 8 years to finally sell their book but in 1971, Created: The Destroyer was released, introducing the world to Remo Williams and his mentor Chiun, the master of Sinanju. 42 years, 150 books, a comic book series, a TV pilot, and a theatrical film later, Remo Williams and Chiun are back...

Read more: http://www.mania.com/mania-interview-warren-murphy_article_136694.html