

The original Sin City left me surprisingly cold. It adhered so closely to Frank Miller's original comic vision that it forgot to be cinematic. It was like one of those "motion comics" they occasionally try to sell us where they deliver CGI-motion versions of the actual book, frame by agonizing frame...

Read more: http://www.mania.com/mania-review-sin-city-dame-to-kill-for_article_140345.html