

Manga | The Japanese market research firm Oricon reports sales of manga volumes (tankobon) slipped 1.5 percent last year, to about $2.886 billion, the first decline since the company began reporting the figures in 2009. [Anime News Network] Graphic novels | The Scottish Archaeological Research Project has put together a rather lively looking graphic novel about [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2013/02/comics-a-m-manga-sales-slip-in-japan-for-first-time-since-2009/>