

I've always disliked fireworks, an aversion I blame on a crippling childhood fear that they would rain down on me like the white-hot fire of a sparkler. That said, I might be convinced to change my mind about them if there were more manga-themed pyrotechnic displays like the one held Thursday in Japan's Kanagawa Prefecture. [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2013/08/incredible-manga-fireworks-light-up-the-sky-in-japan/>