

Veteran creator Jim Starlin, who last month revealed he's taking over as writer of an unnamed DC Comics series, teased the project over the weekend with a look at a potential costume design for the still-unannounced project. "Here's a new outfit design that may or may not be used in the on-going comic series I'm [...]"

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2013/01/jim-starlin-teases-concept-art-for-his-upcoming-dc-comics-series/>