

Here's Mark Millar explaining why he doesn't want his creator-owned comics to be released in digital the same day as print: Digital comics are like TV rights to me in that they're the tertiary phase of all this. These are for the most casual, mainstream readers or viewers and much cheaper than the primary or [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2013/05/mark-millar-is-wrong-about-digital-comics/>