

Regular readers will recall that I teach writing and cartooning classes in local schools as part of an after-school arts program. The last couple of years, I've also taught summer school classes in the subject, and that's been a whole different animal. Recently I wrote about the experience for a magazine that was putting together [...]

Read more: <http://goodcomics.comicbookresources.com/2013/09/21/my-summer-on-misfit-island/>