

Amid all of the best-of-the-year lists, National Public Radio’s comics go-to guy Glen Weldon takes a different approach, focusing on “outstanding works that haven’t gotten the column inches they deserve” — in short, the graphic novels and collections that might’ve slipped beneath the mainstream radar. Of course, half of his selections have already made best-of [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2012/11/npr-names-best-graphic-novels-th-at-flew-under-the-radar-in-2012/>