

Spider-Man: Turn Off the Dark grossed a record-low $966,952 in ticket sales last week, the first time since performances began in November 2010 that the musical — at $75 million, the most expensive in Broadway history — dipped below $1 million for a standard eight-performance week. Although The New York Times notes that sales have [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2013/08/spider-man-turn-off-the-dark-ticket-sales-dip-to-record-low/>