

Apparently, it takes three respected organizations to reiterate what fans had been saying for a week in order for DC Comics to admit: Maybe the fans have a point. As we reported Friday, the publisher apologized to anyone offended by the talent search tryout page that asked artists to depict Harley Quinn naked in a [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2013/09/the-dc-comics-non-guide-to-responding-to-controversy/>