

When Amazon Publishing unveiled Kindle Worlds last month, one of the first questions in comics circles was which publisher would be the first to sign on to the program, which allows fan-fic writers to earn royalties for certain corporate-approved stories. Now we know the answer: Valiant Entertainment. The recently revived publisher was announced this morning [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2013/06/valiant-signs-on-to-amazons-new-fan-fic-publishing-platform/>