

City Hunter is a Korean series inspired by Tsukasa Hojo's popular manga. While it derives much from its source material, this modern-day adaptation seems to keep the spirit of the series. Lee Yoon-Sung (Lee Min-Ho) is a young man with a tragic past who works as an agent of the Blue House's Connection Network team. He works alongside Kim Na-Na (Park Min-Young), the bodyguard of Dahye (Goo Hara), teenage daughter of the South Korean president. With time, Lee Yoon-Sung and Kim Na-Na begin to develop feelings for each other. But Yoon-Sung is a renowned womanizer. City Hunter will be broadcasted on the Korean channel SBS from May, 25th.
