

I'm not doing this for any particular reason. The only reason I guess, besides just sharing my love for CBM, would be to give you a short reprieve from the constant 'Dark Knight Rises' ranting and what else (not that it's getting old). Nevertheless, here we go, and in no particular order. 10. "Easygoing" No, I'm not talking about how wonderfully nice everybody is on this website...yeah, that would be lying. Actually, I'm talking about how physically "easy" the website is. While I'm away from home, I tether my LG Optimus to my laptop to give myself sub-par internet connection. With a much slower internet connection, I am forced to deal with the consequences. However, ComicBookMovie gives me absolutely no issues! Facebook might be slow, Google might take an extra minute, but CBM.com takes mere seconds to appear fully loaded in my
