

Empire haven't actually officially revealed these covers yet, but that hasn't stopped Just Jared from getting a hold of em somehow.. Cate Blanchett also spoke to the mag about returning as Elf Queen Galadriel.. "I think it was just getting to spend some time in close proximity to Ian McKellen. I'm smitten... Maybe in some different universe we're blissfully happy together. I have less baby fat and my face is slightly more angular. But once I'd put the wig, the feet and the clothing on again and took a photo of myself on my iPhone and looked at it, it blew my mind how much I still resembled Frodo." The issue is out in the UK tomorrow, so be sure to check it out for what is bound to be a lot more Hobbit coverage.
