

Something else isn't it? The car was built in a professional racing facility alongside Grand Prix, DTM, Indy and Sports Racing cars. Putsch says "the world's only turbine-powered bat car" was built this year, features 365-horsepower Boeing turboshaft engine and a centrally mounted touch-screen iPad with 3G and is able to run on jet, kerosene or diesel fuel. And he is selling it on ebay for $620,000. In the listing Putsch says.. "Having a perfect reliability record, this car is ready to be enjoyed by an enthusiast who is looking for the ultimate luxury in one-upmanship. The construction is in a completely different league than both replicas and of course the movie prop cars." I'm sold. Now to sell a few organs.. By TwitterButtons.com
