

George Lucas is coming to Legends of Tomorrow! Well, sort of. With Rip Hunter now working as a director in 1967 Los Angeles, the midseason premiere will see him cross paths with the heroes as the latest aberration sees the young filmmaker decide to quit film school. Why does that matter? Well, while it may not sound like a big deal, it has a huge impact on the lives of Citizen Steel and The Atom. “Because of circumstances, the time aberration in episode 209 is George Lucas quits film school,” executive producer Marc Guggenheim reveals in a new interview with Entertainment Weekly. “As a result, he never makes Star Wars or Raiders of the Lost Ark. As a result, Ray, who became an engineer because of Star Wars, and Nate, who became a historian because of Raiders, slowly start to lose their brilliance, because those things that inspired them to become who they are didn’t exist.” Matt Angel (Grimm) has been cast as
