

A source from Warner Brothers has let the cat out of the bag and we're not talking Catwoman here, here's what he had to say: "Amy Adams is in the picture but she is not playing the Daily Planet reporter Lois Lane, she is in fact playing Clark's other love, Lana Lang from the DC comic book". "Who is actually going to play Lois is none other than Michelle Monaghan (Kiss Kiss Bang Bang), who yesterday was at the screening of her new film Source Code at the Crosby Street Hotel in New York. She hasn't even been allowed to tell even her family and friends as its that hush hush". "Also, the connection of DC heroes or no connection of DC heroes (JLA) has not been decided yet and nothings set in stone, as always Warner Bros. is watching." "Last bit of info you may find interesting, WB are wanting to include Checkmate Agents
