

"Just go from a place of being a fan and caring as deeply as you do." Andrew Garfield has some big shoes and a tight unitard to fill when he steps into a role that Tobey Maguire did so well at. He'll have to overcome the comparisons, but after watching the trailer I think the bright young actor will exceed expectations and become the best live-action Spider-Man. When MTV News' Josh Horowitz asked Andrew describe the difference between Marc Webb's version as compared to Sam Raimi's version he responded: "I can't answer that, really. I don't know. I know that I saw the Sam Raimi/ Tobey Maguire version before it was legally out. I was so excited to see it, I got a pirate copy," Garfield told MTV News before a screening event Monday. "I was blown away. [Tobey has] been Spider-Man in my imagination since then, in my mind's eye." The star of

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/debbiedowner/news/?a=54346&t=Andrew_Garfield_On_How_He_Approached_Spidey_in_THE_AMAZING_SPIDER-MAN