

Thanks to Geoff Boucher of Hero Complex, we have a revealing interview with Andrew Garfield, where he talks more about his "spidery" influences in his portrayal of the iconic Marvel character and how this eventually altered his sure to be unique take on Peter Parker. Be sure to click on the link below to head on over to the site to read the interview in full, where you'll also find out more about his thoughts on working with actress Emma Stone. On What He Felt He Had To Avoid While Preparing For The Role: There's so much to do with it, I didn't really think about avoiding anything. I just didn't come at it that way. I wanted him to have fun. I wanted it to feel like Peter Parker could have some fun and wasn't just trying to save the world. He could have fun even after the responsibility has been thrust

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/joshw24/news/?a=45248&t=Andrew Garfield Studied Spiders For His Role In iThe Amazing Spider-Mani