Yeah, kind of a slow news day...But, since FOX is still keeping us guessing on what to expect from the next chapter in the X-Men franchise, I thought this was something worth posting. So, it looks like that The Senate Visual Effects has been added to provide some more visual effects shots for X-Men: First Class. They've worked on number of films such as Hellboy II, 28 Weeks Later, Angels & Demons and on two Matthew Vaughn-directed films Stardust and the recent comic book film Kick-Ass. There are already four companies working on VFX and below you can check out their names and some of the work they have done in the past: WETA DIGITAL: - X-Men: The Last Stand - Lord of the Rings - District 9 Rhythm & Hues: - The Incredible Hulk - X-Men 2 - Superman Returns Luma Pictures: - Hancock - Pirates of the Caribbean: At World's End - X-Men Origins: Wolverine The Moving Picture Company: - Watchmen - Sunshine - Batman
