

The A.R.G.U.S. viral website for Suicide Squad has once again been updated, and the criminal record belonging to Slipknot confirms that Keystone City is part of the DC Films Universe. Why should you care? Well, it's the home of both the original Flash, Jay Garrick, and the third Flash, Wally West. While this doesn't confirm that either of those characters will show up, you have to believe it's possible. Right now, they're both making their presence felt on the small screen in The Flash's TV series on The CW, but it's feasible that we could see them in the Scarlet Speedster's solo movie in 2018. Iron Heights Penitentiary is actually three miles outside of Keystone, but that may or may not end up coming into play here. Which other iconic DC Comics locations would you guys like to see on the big screen?

Read more: https://www.comicbookmovie.com/the_flash/another-iconic-location-has-been-confirmed-as-existing-in-the-dc-films-a147983