

In the Avengers: EMH Season Two teaser you've seen new characters such as Vision, Surtur, The Thing, Dr. Doom, etc. revealed to what I'm sure is nothing but delight. However, in this recent podcast with Marvel, Chris Yost lets it slip that another Marvel team will be featured in the second season as well. Here's a synopsis of the main highlights below: -He and Producer Joshua Fine mapped out an early storyboard for where they wanted to take the animated Avengers series early-on. -Similar to the first season, expect a ton of more Easter Eggs -The X-Men and Guardians of the Galaxy will cameo [*we already knew about The Guardians but not the X-Men] -The Serpent Society was one of his favorite cameos in Season 1. Director and developer Ciro Niele favors The Howling Commandos so expect to see more of them. -The foreshadowed plotlines from Season 1 will "explode" in Season 2.

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/GraphicCity/news/?a=56790>