

Following the release of Logan next month, the summer blockbuster season will quickly be upon us, and one of the most highly anticipated releases from that has to be Wonder Woman. Thanks to the latest issue of Empire Magazine, we have a new magazine cover, some stills, and even never before seen concept art from the movie. There aren't too many big reveals here, but what we see is definitely pretty cool, including some fun action shots of the Amazon warrior racing into action on the battlefields of World War I. Wonder Woman also stars Chris Pine, Robin Wright, Danny Huston, David Thewlis, Ewen Bremner, Saïd Taghmaoui, and Lucy Davis. Directed by Patty Jenkins, the movie will be released on June 2nd, 2017.
