

Ayelet Zurer stepped into the role of Kal-El's Kryptonian Mother Lara Lor-Von when Julia Ormond dropped out, and in an interview with ShockYa the statuesque actress speaks for the first time about her work on the movie. She doesn't go into any specifics plot or character wise, but praises Zack Snyder and co and - as other cast members have already noted - mentions an "edginess" to the film.. ShockYa: And what can you share about the upcoming "Man of Steel," in which you play Superman's birth mother? AZ: I think it's going to be an awesome movie, really. I loved Zack (Snyder). I think he's a very cool and creative director, and I think the executive producers who developed the project are really on top of it because it's a major movie and they've invested so much in it — not just money, but time. So I think the edginess of the

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/rorschachsraints/news/?a=58250>