

Wow, two "Baddie" articles in one week? You should feel special, but don't get used to it. So in about six months or so (I need a Nolan-ite to give me the exact number of days), Christopher Nolan and company will be bringing us the final chapter in his Batman film series. It's been a great run having him behind the camera, and the likes of Christian Bale, Gary Oldman, Michael Caine and Morgan Freeman in front of the camera, but it is also time to look to the future. I think that most of would agree that yet another reboot or reintroduction of the Batman franchise will occur, but exactly when and how is yet to be determined. One thing I enjoyed so much about Nolan's films are the villains he chose. With the exception of Joker and Catwoman (villain?), these characters, more specifically, these versions of the characters, are
