

Says TV Guide, "We sure are gonna miss Batman: The Brave and the Bold. Only a handful of episodes remain of the exuberant Cartoon Network series, and clearly there's no been no slacking off in the writers' room. This week's installment... is a charming and lighthearted tribute to the 'Big 3' of DC Comics... The trio meets at a diner for a meal of bacon cheeseburgers, fries and shakes while discussing what items to leave in a superhero time capsule. The fun doesn't last for long when their archenemies — the Joker, Lex Luthor and Cheetah — plan a team-up of their own. After years of futility they decide to switch adversaries: Luthor takes on Batman, Joker goes after Wonder Woman and Cheetah faces Superman." For more, follow the link.
