

After a brief stint in Supernatural, Lauren Cohan shot to fame after landing a role in The Walking Dead. Since then, she's tackled a few different movies, though her biggest role may have also been her briefest. Appearing in a flashback at the start of Batman v Superman: Dawn of Justice, the actress played Martha Wayne alongside her The Walking Dead co-star Jeffrey Dean Morgan as Thomas. Due to her commitments as Maggie in the AMC series, chances are we won't see Cohan take on a full-blown superhero role for quite some time. However, these images from GQ Mexico (via Batman-News) certainly go a long way in making it clear that she would be perfect for any number of roles in either the Marvel or DC Films Universe. Who do you think she could play? Let us know below the photos!
