

The interview (courtesy of GameTrailers.com) itself is well worth watching as there's plenty of interesting new details about the upcoming video game. However, it's what Brown says at the 0:40 point which really piqued my interest. Before you go any further, beware of MAJOR SPOILERS AHEAD. Get More: GameTrailers.com, The Amazing Spider-Man - GDC 2012: Story of Spidey Interview HD, PC Games, PlayStation 3, Xbox 360 "Obviously something really big happened in Manhattan in the movie and after that is where the game is starting actually. You get to see what happens next and you get to interact with the Lizard and Connors in a completely different way." As the video game is set in the same universe as the film, this seems like confirmation that Curt Connors/The Lizard survives his final battle with Spider-Man in the Marc Webb helmed reboot. While tie-in's such as this one play absolutely no part in influencing

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/JoshWildingNewsAndReviews/news/?a=56366>