

HeyUGuys recently managed to catch up with Ben Affleck to talk Live by Night, and they were quick to ask the actor and director about what it was like to work on Justice League. Interestingly, he was quick to use the word 'Rebirth' in regards to the current state of the DC Films Universe before being sure to point out just how much 'fun' he had while working on the upcoming release from Zack Snyder. 'It was great, and there's a lot of changes and a lot of new stuff. There was a whole feeling of kind of 'rebirth' and there's an exciting group of actors. You know, Ezra Miller and Jason Momoa and guys like that, so much fun, and Gal Gadot who's great and Henry Cavill. It was a lot of fun,' he added. The interviewer then suggested that Sienna Miller would be a good fit for the role of reporter and Bruce Wayne love interest Vicki Vale, and while the actress
