

Mark Ruffalo has been a campaigner against Hydro-Fracking for some time now, and has given some lucky folks a chance to win tickets to the premiere of Joss Whedon's The Avengers while helping out with the cause. Click on the image below place your bid. Here is a message from Ruffalo himself..

Water Defense works to protect our most precious resource—water— from the destructive use of fossil fuels by promoting clean energy policies. It connects the dots between the movements working to stop fracking, mountain top removal, and tar sands mining, which threaten our dwindling global supply of clean water. Founded by actor Mark
