

Deadline report that the fourth instalment in the Pirates Of The Caribbean franchise has now hit a box office milestone of over $1 billion globally. 2006's Pirates of the Caribbean: Dead Man's Chest also made roughly the same amount, and with 2010's Alice in Wonderland and Toy Story 3, this means Disney now have four or five pictures in the list of the 10 highest grossing films of all time. Wonder whether we'll see The Avengers join that list> Here are some specific details courtesy of the site. Walt Disney Pictures and Jerry Bruckheimer Films have yet to confirm this Summer 2011 milestone yet. But unofficially rival studios tell me that the franchise's fourth film Pirates Of The Caribbean: On Stranger Tides just crossed $1 billion in global box office today. The pic had grossed $995.4M globally as of June 30th, and $232,1M domestically as of July 1st. After the last three movies, and

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/joshw24/news/?a=40914&t=BOX\_OFFICE\_iPirates\_Of\_The\_Caribbean\_On\_Stranger\_Tides\_i\_Passes\_1\_Billion\_Worldwide