

Reports from Exhibitor Relations are estimating that Peter Berg and Universal's Battleship has bombed at the box office with only $25.3 Million, in second place. While, Marvel's The Avengers is still going strong at the #1 spot with an estimated $55 Million in it's third weekend. The film has now made $457.1M domestic and over $1 Billion worldwide. You sunk my BATTLESHIP! Universal's wannabe blockbuster set sail in 2nd place with just $25.3M. #boredgames— Exhibitor Relations (@ERCboxoffice) May 20, 2012 Box office behemoth! Marvel's THE AVENGERS officially scored $55M this weekend, for a jaw-dropping total of $457M--#6 all-time domestic!— Exhibitor Relations (@ERCboxoffice) May 20, 2012 #Avengers #1 again w/ $55.1M wknd, -47%, & $457.1M in just 17 days. Leaps to #6 alltime dom. bit.ly/oVD1ug— Gitesh Pandya (@giteshpandya) May 20, 2012 The question now is, will The Avengers stay at the #1 spot with Men in Black 3 hitting cinemas next week? Both Battleship and The Avengers

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/NerdyGeek/news/?a=60071>