

The Hunger Games is still breaking records four weeks into its theatrical run. The Lionsgate-distributed film, which adapts the highly successful Suzanne Collins novel, has grossed $21.5 million this weekend in its fourth week at the top spot (becoming the first movie since James Cameron's Avatar to do so). It beats out newcomers The Three Stooges ($17.1 million) and fellow Lionsgate film The Cabin In The Woods ($14.9 million). Additionally, The Hunger Games has reached $500 million worldwide, and is the biggest film of the year so far. Below is Deadline's estimates for this weekend's Top Ten: 1. The Hunger Games (Lionsgate) Week 4 [3,916 Theaters] PG-13 Friday $6.5M, Saturday $9.5M, Weekend $21.7M, Cume $335.7M 2. The Three Stooges (Fox) NEW [3,477 Theaters] PG Friday $5.6M, Saturday $6.9M, Weekend $17.1M 3. The Cabin In The Woods (Lionsgate) NEW [2,811 Theaters] R Friday $5.5M, Saturday $5.9M, Weekend $15.1M 4. Titanic 3D (Paramount/Fox) Week 2 [2,697 Theaters] PG-13 Friday $3.3M, Saturday

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/BatFreak/news/?a=57952>