

On Whether The Movie Universe Effected The First Avenger: STEPHEN McFEELY: Yeah, but it was never intrusive. You're going to need a MacGuffin, so if it's related to the Marvel Universe, that's fine by us. We already had a villain, so if we wanted to also weave in Howard Stark it wasn't that hard. Someone has to fill some of these beats. CHRISTOPHER MARKUS: We probably had the easiest jobs in terms of interweaving the universe of Marvel movies, because we're chronologically first. We don't have to pick up the threads from the other films. On Whether They're Working On A Sequel: McFEELY: Yes! On Whether They Know Whether It Will Focus On WWII Adventures Or The Present Day: MARKUS: We're very early, still. This is the fun part — when we can say, "Hey, we can do this!" and everyone says, "Yeah!" No one says anything negative at this point in the process. We have a

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/joshw24/news/?a=35240&t=iCaptain_America_Screenwriters_Confirm_Sequel_And_Talk_Post-Avengers_Plans