

Marvel kicked off the panel by confirming that they currently have four films in active production. The first is of course Iron Man 3, which is halfway through production. The next is Thor: The Dark World, currently filming in London, and helmed by Alan Taylor (Game of Thrones). I guess that's pretty interesting, right? Well, hold on to your hats! The Russo Brothers have signed up to direct Captain America: The Winter Soldier, set to be released on 4/4/14. An image of Rocket Raccoon was then shown and the Guardians of the Galaxy roster was confirmed as including him, Drax, Groot, Starlord, and Gamora. This will be released on August 1st, 2014 and Marvel have promised to release official concept art later today. Edgar Wright then hit the stage with a copy of Marvel Premiere, revealing that he may use that Ant-Man heist story as a basis for his version of the

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/JoshWildingNewsAndReviews/news/?a=63842>