

This came out of nowhere. But it is a fairly small project, in fact next to Disney's planned $150 Million version of 20,000 Leagues this would have to be considered indie. Anyway, Deadline have revealed quite a few details on the flick which will see a return to the screen for the famous hero of literature perhaps best known to comic book fans from Alan Moore's League Of Extraordinary Gentlemen. The movie will be produced by Shoreline Entertainment and directed by Pearry Teo. Starring Atwell, Morrissey and Hugh Bonneville as Nemo himself. Here is an excerpt from Deadline's article.. Like 300, this Captain Nemo adventure will be shot entirely on stage using green screen and CGI. "We would have to double our production costs if we shot this in the States," Producer Amy Krell says. Shoreline Entertainment is selling The Return of Captain Nemo, which will be directed by Pearry Teo. Atwell

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/rorschachsrrants/news/?a=49541&t=iCaptain_Americais_Hayley_Atwell_Joins_iThe_Return_Of_Captain_Nemoi