

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/scifimediazone/news/?a=28640&t=Captain_Americas_Lost_Musical

Moans Comics Alliance on the subject of the ad above, "The mind boggles at the possibilities presented here. Would Cap have actually worn that jaunty top hat on stage? Would Red Skull have appeared, and, if so, would he have performed the rousing 11 o'clock number? And if the show had been a success, would Marvel comic books have replaced Backstage as the premiere source for Broadway casting cattle calls? But, of course, the musical never happened, leaving us with the question of why anyone ever thought it was a good idea to look for the next "Annie" in the pages of "ROM Spaceknight." (Though it did give us the admittedly wonderful image of Cap tap dancing for liberty.)" In April of '85, the New York Times offered this description of the proposed show: "Captain America' boasts a hero-sized $4 million budget. IT'S going to be a big one, if everything works