

Courtesy of Blic Online Serbian to play cello in Bond movie - At one of the many concerts the musician held in France during the Cannes Film Festival, the producers and the director of the next Bond film were in the audience, who were staggered by what they had heard and on the spot offered Jelena a chance to write the opening score for the new James Bond film, entitled Carte Blanche. Although the 23rd James Bond film is still in its early production phase, when it comes to the music, Jelena reveals her opening score will be a mixture of the recognisable Bond theme sound and a more classical touch. Click the link at the bottom to see the quotes from the cello player, but I included just the Bond relevant part of the article. I'll assume during the interview the reporter asked her about the film, and she revealed the title.
