

John Arturo - When did you start collecting and how did you get into the hobby? Brandon Williams - A lot of my stuff is from my childhood, I'm 25 now and I just continue to grow my collection with every yard sale, flea market, or convention I go to. John Arturo - Who is responsible for the Lobo piece? It looks absolutely tremendous! Brandon Williams - That is a sketch from the great Art Baltazar, next to a signed copy of Tiny Titans #16 which is Coach Lobo's first appearance. I actually pitched the idea to the guys a few years back and they loved it, so I feel like it's my baby. John Arturo - Do you collect anything else? Brandon Williams - Hmmm, comics, toys, foreign movie posters, movies, and California Raisins... John Arturo - What is your favorite collectibles company? Brandon Williams - I couldn't choose a favorite, but if I had to I'd

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/johnarturo/news/?a=50991&t=CBM_Collectors_Collections_-_BrandonWLobo